Introduction

Dr. Veneeth Sidharthan's has a unique teaching style, using many cases to give you confidence in case taking, case analysis, repertorizing and remedy selection.

Unlike some other continuing education courses where only 2 or 3 cases are covered a day, Veneeth goes through many cases at a fast pace, in an interactive manner. You are given the case, you must first analyze yourself and then the case is discussed. In between, he gives theory on the proper approach to case analysis, how to translate observations into the repertory, and correct repertorizing techniques. He also gives practical materia medica knowledge during the differentiation of the homeopathic medicines.

In his busy practice in India, he treats on average between 30 to 50 patients per day. That means he has to manage many acute cases within 5 or 10 minutes. Chronic cases get a little more time, and very complex chronic cases must be resolved within 30 minutes.

This continuing education course gives the participant experience and confidence that using the classical method of homeopathy works not only in severe acute situations but also with the most severe pathology, such as kidney failure and cancer.

Background

After graduating from a homeopathic college in India, in 2002, Dr Veneeth Sidharthan started his homeopathic practice, and to date in 2023 he has been in practice since 21 years.

The homeopathic college he followed from which he obtained the diploma with the title BHMS was 5 ½ years + 1 year internship. He then also studied in London to receive the diploma PG hom. He further studied with Vithoukas to receive the diploma from the IACH (Greece). He has studied with many other teachers to learn their methods, but his experiences with these other methods confirmed to him that a deep knowledge and application of Hahnemann's classical homeopathic approach is essential to be successful in practice.

In Kerala, India, there are almost 950 'panchayaths' (counties) having government clinics. The estimation is that each day in these clinics more than 100.000 consultations are conducted. Besides these free clinics there are also private practices. And all these homeopaths see a minimum of 50 patients a day.

A frequently mentioned motto from Veneeth is "Keep it simple". Although Veneeth has studied with several other teachers and methods, like with Vijayakar, Sankaran, and says that there is often something to learn from these methods, he himself focuses on “Hahnemann’s original teachings: The Organon and The Chronic Diseases” and “other classical homeopathic writings”. From his travels around the world he concludes that many homeopaths are not well versed with these classical writings of Hahnemann and other great classical homeopaths.

Dr Veneeth’s core teachings are centered around cured cases. And especially in this first course, which is an introduction to his teachings, he does not discuss much homeopathic theory (homeopathic philosophy) in depth.

This course “Core analysis and prescribing in Homeopathy” consists of many short video lectures with case assignments and optional quiz questions. Covering not only skin diseases but also other pathologies like: ptosis, kidney failure, severe “side effects of Covid vaccinations”, cancer.

Dr Veneeth hands out short case assignments with photos and videos with the symptoms of the patient, then the participants need to analyze the case, translate the symptoms into repertory rubrics, repertorize and motivate from the materia medica why they would prescribe a certain remedy. Then Dr Veneeth discusses the case with the participants.

Course duration & certificate

- This course “Core analysis and prescribing in Homeopathy” is approved by ACHENA for 9 CEU (continued professional education) and approved for 2 full days training by the NVKH and NOKH, consists of 9h video and many case assignments and quiz questions.
- At the end of the course you will receive a certificate if you have participated with all the quizzes.

Introduction lecture

The course starts with a short introduction by Dr Veneeth and a short reading assignment about his “Golden rules” for case analysis.

This course is aimed at

- All students of homeopathy who are familiar with the main principles of homeopathy.
- All practicing homeopaths who like to learn from Dr Veneeth and his “Keep it Simple and Straightforward” case analysis method.

Course topic and learning objectives

- All aspects of Hahnemann's classical homeopathic method, as expanded on by teachers like Boenninghausen, Kent and Vithoulkas. Epidemics, single and multilayered cases, the direction of cure, acute and chronic prescribing, potency selection and more. All illustrated with case examples from daily practice.
- Via the many case examples the participants will gain practical experience in case management and the application of the above-mentioned classical homeopathic method.

Basic knowledge needed

- This course expects that you are already familiar with the fundamental principles of homeopathy, e.g. the simillimum principle, primary and secondary action (Organon § 64-66), regarding the minimal dose and the 4th, 5th, and 6th edition method of dosing (4th edition being the single dose, the 5th and 6th edition being the watery solutions and the LM's or Q-potencies).
- You should also be familiar with at least a basic understanding of the principles of Hahnemann's theory of Chronic diseases, and the appropriate chapters in Kent's Lectures on Philosophy, and Vithoulkas Science of homeopathy.
