Luc De Schepper Advanced Posology in Homeopathy

An introduction to case analysis & management, with a live case example.

www.homeopathic-courses.com

Short course description on www.vimeo.com

Dr. Luc De Schepper discusses in this course Hahnemann's advanced methods of posology according to the 5th and 6th edition of the Organon. They are also called: The Split Dose Method or The Watery Solutions.

These lectures of Dr. Luc's on advanced posology in classical homeopathy also contain tips about the core delusion or cyber delusion, the simillimum etc.

The course consists of lectures, a live-recorded patient example with case analysis; optional* quiz questions and a summary document with a few optional* assignments.

In total the course consists of approximately 12 hours of video lectures and optional* 3 hours for the quiz questions and final assignments (in total hours). The course moderator will be there to assist you with any questions. Some lectures are partly overlapping but are also complementary to each other.

(*) To receive a certificate after completion of the course you need to participate with all the quiz questions and fill out the evaluation form at the end.

In homeopathy there is worldwide a big misunderstanding about "the dose".

Many schools still teach that the only important issue is to find the simillimum remedy, and that the dose does not matter: Just give 1, 2 or 3 granules dry!

Contrary to this belief Hahnemann found out that it is not only the right remedy that matters, but also:

- The right Potency
- The right Frequency
- The right Amount

A live-recorded case offers a practical example of case analysis and includes the case evaluation during the follow-up. The case shows in the follow-up one of the errors that can happen regarding posology.

The case analysis by Dr Luc offers you a great opportunity to learn from his systematic approach to case analysis. In a later course this will be explained in more depth.

Worldwide confusion

Worldwide many cases do not succeed in practice because homeopaths are only familiar with Kent's way of dosing (30, 30, 200, 200, M, M, etc.), the "wait and watch" method or the 4th edition Organon method. Homeopaths also know very little about the correct use of the LM potencies (also called Q potencies). Many cases fail (even on the correct remedy) because homeopaths do not use Hahnemann's advanced methods of dosing. The solution often lies in carefully applying the watery solutions of the 5th or 6th Organon editions. Most of the time you need much more gentle dosing, infrequently given and adapted to the reaction of the patient.

This course consists of several lectures that partly overlap, but that are also complementary to each other. Because the topic is so important to apply correctly in practice, it is of great benefit to repeat a few things. We are sure that this practical course, according to Hahnemann's advanced teachings, will help you to greatly increase your results in practice.

Introduction & Overview

Worldwide many cases do not succeed in practice because homeopaths are only familiar with Kent's way of dosing (30, 30, 200, 200, M, M, etc.), the “wait and watch” method or the 4th edition Organon method. Homeopaths also know very little about the correct use of the LM potencies (also called Q potencies). Many cases fail (even on the correct remedy) because homeopaths do not use Hahnemann's advanced methods of dosing. The solution often lies in carefully applying the watery solution of the 5th or 6th Organon editions. Most of the time you need much more gentle dosing, infrequently given and individually adapted to the reaction of the patient.

This course consists of video lectures, optional* quiz questions and a few final optional* assignments in the course summary document. Some lectures are partly overlapping, but are also complementary to each other. Because it is so important to apply posology correctly in practice, it is beneficial to repeat a few things.

(To receive the certificate, you need to participate with all the quiz questions and fill out the evaluation form at the end.*

Dr. Luc says: Applying Hahnemann's advanced posology methods will greatly increase your results in practice. It is very unfortunate that only a few homeopathic colleges spend time on it.

This course discusses Hahnemann's advanced methods of posology according to the 5th and 6th edition of the Organon. This kind of posology is also known as The Split Dose Method or The Watery Solutions.

- The course includes an example of Dr. Luc's systematic approach to case analysis, and contain also tips about the core delusion (or cyber delusion), the simillimum etc.
- The course consists of approximately 12 hours of video lectures.
- There are optional* quiz questions and assignments after each course section, these will take about 3 hours.
- At the end of the course you will receive a final document with some additional information and a few assignments.
- Throughout the course you can ask your personal course moderator for assistance. You may ask questions asked about the course content after you have completed each section. Dr. Luc will assist the moderator with the more difficult questions.

This course is aimed at

- All students of homeopathy who are already familiar with the main principles of homeopathy and who are familiar the Kentian method of dosing.
- All working homeopaths who have not been taught about the changes which Hahnemann introduced during the later years of his life, when he wrote the 5th and 6th editions of the Organon.

Confusion about “the dose”

In homeopathy there is worldwide a big misunderstanding about “the dose”. Many schools still teach that the only important issue is to find the simillimum remedy, and that the dose does not matter: Just give 1, 2 or 3 granules dry! Then ‘wait and watch’.

Contrary to this belief Hahnemann found out that it is not only the right remedy that matters, but also:

- The right Potency
- The right Frequency
- The right Amount

A live-recorded case offers a practical example of Dr. Luc's systematic case analysis and includes the case evaluation at a follow-up. The example case shows one of the common errors that can happen regarding posology.

This case offers an introduction to Dr. Luc's systematic approach to case analysis.

General learning objectives of this course in advanced posology

At the end of this course participants should have learned the following:

- Have an overview of the changes Hahnemann made regarding posology.

- Know how the advanced posology of the 5th and 6th edition of the Organon should be applied in acute and chronic cases and also when using nosodes.
- Know how to adapt the posology during follow-up visits according to the 5th and 6th edition of the Organon.
- Know how to apply the ‘teaspoon method’.
- Know how to apply the ‘drop method’.
- Gain experience with case management through real case example exercises.
- Know which efficient questions to ask during the follow-up visit to better evaluate the reaction of the patient, e.g. be familiar with “the follow-up questions”.
- A real live-recorded case and case analysis will allow participants to gain experience in a particular approach to general case analysis using systematic steps.
- A real live case follow-up will show a real situation of errors in posology and how to correct this.
- A real live case will allow the participants to learn a certain important polychrest remedy in depth.

Course lectures - content summary

(Total duration of all video lectures: 11h 55min & 3 hours optional quizzes)

Summary of the topics Dr. Luc discusses during this course.

Advanced Posology Part 1: Introduction to the 4th, 5th, 6th Organon edition

The course starts with a short introduction that explains briefly how Hahnemann’s thinking developed over time and also focuses especially on the major changes of the 4th edition of the Organon, going to the 5th and then leading to the 6th edition of the Organon.

Advanced Posology Part 2: Potency selection (acute + chronic) & Cyber Delusion (core delusion) Lycopodium

During the first seminar in Hechtel, Belgium (2011), Luc gave a summary of potency selection and dosing (posology) for chronic and acute cases. Luc also answers several questions from participants. Included is the Core Delusion of Lycopodium.

Advanced Posology Part 3: Potency selection and second prescription (2012 Hechtel) + remedy relationships

This lecture gives a comprehensive overview of the last years of Hahnemann’s development in dosing (posology). Dr. Luc explains how to use and achieve the benefits of the 5th and 6th edition method of dosing.

Advanced Posology Part 4: Exercises potency selection

The previous theory is illustrated with clear case examples. A great lecture with many answers and questions from the audience!

Advanced Posology Part 5: Follow-up questions for patient evaluation

Worldwide, most things that go wrong in the homeopathic practice happen during the patient evaluation and particularly at the second and further follow-up consultations, called management of the patient. In this lecture Dr. Luc discusses what you need to check carefully (guidelines) with your patient so that you can evaluate the response correctly. These guidelines are also given to the patient at the first consultation.

Advanced Posology Part 6: Example live-recorded case with follow-up overview

This patient is a great example of a certain remedy. Luc analyses the case step-by-step following the “Case Analysis Questions”.

You will also see how the “Core Delusion” method is built on top of a normal, full case analysis. The case also illustrates well how Dr. Luc uses the ‘extended meaning’ of repertory rubrics.

Advanced Posology Part 7: Potency selection and second prescription (2012 Netherlands)

In this lecture a comprehensive overview is given of the last years of Hahnemann’s development in dosing (posology). Dr. Luc explains how to use and achieve the benefits of the 5th and 6th edition method of dosing.

With this lecture you will have a clear summary of the previously discussed topic of posology.

Advanced Posology Part 7 C: Course summary & assignments & certificate

Please contact the moderator to send you the final course summary document incl. optional assignments and instructions on how to apply for a certificate.

Basic knowledge needed

This course in advanced posology expects that you are already familiar with the fundamental principles of homeopathy, e.g. the simillimum principle, primary and secondary action (Organon § 64-66), regarding the minimal dose and the 4th edition (Kentian) method of dosing (you can read the appropriate chapters in Kent’s Lectures on Philosophy). This course focuses on the more advanced 5th and 6th edition posology, the watery solutions method that Hahnemann applied in his later years.

Duration 3 months (can extended if needed)

You have 3 months viewing time to complete the whole course. If for some good reason you do not manage to complete the course on time, write to the moderator René email homeopathiccourses@gmail.com stating your full name and country and he will extend your viewing period free of charge.

Time needed

To study the video lectures will take you 12 hours. But we are sure you will want to view some parts again. The optional* quiz questions take 2 hours, and the final optional* assignments approximately 1 hour. The total course duration is approximately 15 hours.

The video lectures are divided into sections of around 20 minutes each.

They can be viewed from any browser, so they can also be viewed on smartphones & tablets - as often as you like during the allocated viewing period. This makes it easy for students & professionals to find the time to take this course, as you can view the lectures at any time, wherever you happen to be.
